WOMAN WHO MOURNED HER HUSBAND

was once a Woman who Felt Obliged to Censure an Acquaintof hers, a Widow like Herself, because she Continued to Play Golf ber Husband's Death.

"It is Most Unseemly," she said, with Severity, "to Show so Little t to your Husband's Memory as to Indulge in such Idle Amuse-Recollect that He may be Watching you, for it is my Belief that the Spirits of the Departed have this Privilege, and Consider his Feelings." Yet you Yourself attend the Opera Regularly," said the Misguided nd, "and that is an Amusement, too, although J am Forced to Admit that for Me it would Not be an Idle One. Recollect that Your husband may be Watching you Aoo.

"That is a very Different Thing," replied the Conscientious Widow. "Wagner is Most Educative, besides Providing great Spiritual Satisfaction to True Music Lovers. It would Never Occur to Me, however, to Feel that I was at all Justified in Chasing a Ball over a Field. Besides, I am not Fond of Athletics. My Husband Could not but Rejoice that I am Enabled to find such a Suitable Consolation so Easily, and I do not Doubt that he Does."

THE WOMAN WHO COULD NOT HELP HERSELF

There was once a Woman who had Never Learned how to Swim, although she Went in Bathing every day in the Summer. She had a Friend who had Acquired this Art with Some Trouble, and was very Proud of her Proficiency in jt.

"It is Absurd," said this Friend, "to Live Near the Water and Not Swim. It Makes you very Attractive to Good Swimmers if you can Go Out with them, and they do Not Feel that you are a Drag on their Pleasures. What would you Do in Case you Fell off the Pier? Now, Watch me!" With these words she Dived off into the Water and Swam about By Animal Idiosyncrasies.

Many are the idiosyncrasies of animals. Some horses are afraid of a dog, some of a bit of paper, some of a bear, some of a car. I have known two mules to shy at a big yellow cucumber on a fence, and a cow we formerly owned could not endure to see any man's hat removed.

The oldest trick recorded of a riding animal is that of Balaam's ass, who tried to crush its rider's foot against the wall. Biting, pawing and balting are also described in the Scriptures. A balky team figures in Esop and Chaucer That the horse of the Seracens used to shy is shown by the traditional inquiry. "If they thought King Richard was in that bush?"
